Altaf gains healthy weight in 83 days

Altaf, an 11 months old toddler, lives in the outskirts of village Bharalpai, District Badin. His father is a rickshaw driver and the only bread winner of the family. The health perception of the family is low-slung e.g., his mother was not much aware about importance of breast feeding, including proper positioning and appropriate attachment and importance of complementary diet. She used to feed her child only a cup of milk in the morning and vegetables once or twice a week. She is aware of the importance of hand washing, but sometimes due to her busy schedule forgot to wash her hands before preparing food. When Altaf was brought to the OTP site MCHC Badin, he was severely malnourished, looked weak and had a mucky face. His mother told PPHI Sindh's Nutrition Assistant that due to lack of resources, it is very difficult for her to visit OTP site regularly. NA encouraged her to visit regularly for the sake of her child. After undergoing the admission process, the child was enrolled at the OTP site. Moreover, NA also explained to the parents of Altaf the proper practices of breastfeeding, the importance of complementary diet, frequency, and variety of available food. After 83 days of treatment at OTP site, Altaf gained his weight and improved his MUAC. Altaf's parents thanked staff of PPHI Sindh for their timely response. His mother said, "We are thankful to PPHI and NA who is working for the great cause of humanity".

RUTF helps Iqar in becoming healthier

This is the story of 12 months old Iqar who lives in the village Bagho Bhutto, District Ghotki. Iqar's father was dead, and his mother looks after her three children with limited resources. She works in the crop fields and due to this engagement, she doesn't have enough time to breastfeed Iqar. This is one of the main reasons, she fed him on buffalo and cow milk. The hand washing practices are not significant in their household, usually she doesn't wash her hands before preparing, eating food and after changing Iqar's diaper. When Iqar was brought to the OTP site BHU Bagho Bhutto, he was severely malnourished with wasted muscle, but after he got enrolled at the OTP site and treated with the nutritional therapeutic food RUTF and other medication, he drastically gained weight. After the treatment of 73 days, he also improved his MUAC measurement and physically looked much better than before. On the last day of his visit, his mother said that, "it was difficult for her to work in the fields and also take care of child, that's why her son had developed severe malnutrition but thanks to PPHI and NA who counsel me and makes my child healthy".
